West Yorkshire and Harrogate receives multi-million pound health funding boost

Our ambition

We want to attract extra funding to help us deliver improved care across the area.

In May 2018, when it joined the Integrated Care System Development Programme, the West Yorkshire and Harrogate was given additional freedom and flexibility to manage the delivery of local services in Bradford District and Craven; Calderdale, Harrogate, Leeds, Kirklees and Wakefield when it joined the Integrated Care System Development Programme.

As a result, the partnership has now been allocated over £8.5m transformation funding by NHS England to improve a host of key priorities across the area.

What we are doing

- The development of a Primary Care Network/Communities (£2.6m) which will strengthen general practice and join it up with hospitals, mental health professionals and community organisations so that people with health and/or social care needs who could otherwise receive fragmented care, with lots of referrals and handovers receive seamless support.
- Major improvements in urgent and emergency care delivery across West Yorkshire and Harrogate (£4m) to help ensure that people receive the right care at the right time in the right place.
- More support to deliver Partnership programmes that we are working on together to improve health and care across West Yorkshire and Harrogate – focusing on improving mental health services; preventing ill health; supporting the 260,000 unpaid carers who live across the area; and modernising our digital communications and IT systems for patients and professionals (£1m).
- £1m will also go toward supporting voluntary and community organisations who will be given funds through their partnership work with local councils and the Health and Wellbeing Boards to tackle loneliness and social isolation which has a major impact on people's health and wellbeing.
